Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 09/04/2009 related to claims 1 – 8 and 10 – 19 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In reference to Applicant's argument:

Applicant's invention as recited in the independent claims is directed toward a transmission apparatus and a reception apparatus. Each of the claims recites "first content" that includes a video signal and/or an audio signal. Each of the claims further recites that "the style of [a] graphical user interface [is] adaptively varied by the reception apparatus according to the first content and a viewing history of the first content, the viewing history of the first content being stored in the reception apparatus." (Emphasis supplied.) Supporting disclosure for the emphasized recitation can be found in the specification at, for example, paragraphs [0192]-[0197]. The cited references do not disclose the emphasized recitation. Accordingly, Applicant believes that claims 1, 4, and 10-19 are patentable over the cited references - taken either individually or in combination - on at least this basis.

Examiner's Response:

Holtz teaches enhanced media client 120 receives a customized preprogrammed show according to the user's profile (according to the first content and a viewing history. Also Holtz teaches receiving the most updated version of the new stories where establish a user profile to specify the contents, duration and layout; the media streams can be modified according to the interests of the user of enhanced media client 120, reassembled and streamed in the new configuration. Every time when the reception device receives updated version, preprogrammed show or a new configuration in accord with the user profile, the user interface has a different look, layout adaptively changed as per the user history profile (Fig. 11 and C 8: L 35 – 41, C 42: L 59 – 61; C 41: L 48 – 49; C 13: L 19 – 31, C 32: L 7 – 31).

Examination Considerations

7. The claims and only the claims form the metes and bounds of the invention. "Office personnel are to give the claims their broadest reasonable interpretation in light of the supporting disclosure. In re Morris, 127 F.3d 1048, 1054-55, 44USPQ2d 1023, 1027-28 (Fed. Cir. 1997). Limitations appearing in the specification but not recited in the claim are not read into the claim. In re Prater, 415 F.2d, 1393, 1404-05, 162 USPQ 541,550-551 (CCPA 1969)" (MPEP p 2100-8, c 2, I 45-48; p 2100-9, c 1, I 1-4). The Examiner has full latitude to interpret each claim in the broadest reasonable sense. Examiner will reference prior art using terminology familiar to one of ordinary skill in the art. Such an approach is broad in concept and can be either explicit or implicit in meaning.

8. Examiner's Notes are provided with the cited references to prior art to assist the applicant to better understand the nature of the prior art, application of such prior art and, as appropriate, to further indicate other prior art that maybe applied in other office actions. Such comments are entirely consistent with the intent and spirit of compact prosecution.

However, and unless otherwise stated, the Examiner's Notes are not prior art but a link to prior art that one of ordinary skill in the art would find inherently appropriate.

9. Unless otherwise annotated, Examiner's statements are to be interpreted in reference to that of one of ordinary skill in the art. Statements made in reference to the condition of the disclosure constitute, on the face of it, the basis and such would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, establishing thereby an inherent prima facie statement.

10. Examiner's Opinion: paragraphs 7 - 9 apply. The Examiner has full latitude to interpret each claim in the broadest reasonable sense.

Conclusion

11. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE

FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
